

Able to Play Music Studio - (509) 998-5422

breakthrough piano and accordion method from Australia has students p l a y i n g immediately

Simply Music is a remarkable, Australian-developed piano, keyboard, and accordion program that has beginning students - children, teens, adults, and seniors - playing great-sounding pop, blues, classical, and accompaniment pieces immediately, from their very first lessons!

This unique approach produces unprecedented results, and is not only becoming the new standard in entry-level music education, but is redefining music learning.

Traditional piano and accordion lessons require students to learn how to read music as a means of learning how to play. This "read first, play later" approach is slow and frustrating and far too many students never acquire the ability to play. Many lose their desire to learn all together. In reality, expecting students to read music before they have learned to play is like expecting toddlers to read before they have learned to talk!

Unlike traditional learning, this breakthrough program is tactile, experiential and multi-sensory, with students being physically, visually and aurally fully absorbed.

Simply Music employs an entirely new and unique 'playing-based' approach that can be easily understood by students of all ages, and focuses on the sheer fun of playing - and producing immediate results.

After building a repertoire of 30 to 50 pieces covering a broad range of musical styles, students go on to learn Simply Music's new and exciting approach to reading music, with their ability to play so well providing a powerful foundation for moving into more advanced musicianship.
